If you missed out on an encounter with New Zealand's unique Maori culture, be sure to add this into today's itinerary. Staring down the challenge of a Maori warrior's haka is spine tingling and the soulful melodies of ancient Maori waiata are mesmerising. If you're after adrenalin rushes, then consider one of the many thrills on offer, from white water rafting to luging to zorbing, there's something to exhilarate young and old alike. The Rotorua Lakes are worth exploring if you have the time and are a must if you want to try your hand at fly fishing. Rotorua is surrounded by sixteen lakes and eleven of these can be fished. The major fishing lakes are Rotorua, Rotoiti, Tarawera, Okataina and Rotoma. Lake Okataina also has the attraction of sandy shores and clear water making it a great picnic and swimming spot.
